Dear People

My reason for writing is to express my shock and dismay at the dramatic increase in the price of essential food items by the Woolworths supermarket here in S.A, Homebrand 500g of butter, up by 71c in one week. Milk, cheese, meat, and bread have lifted dramatically. The area and the state manager have both advised me that it is due to the drought and fuel costs. I find this hard to believe.

What more can I say.

The 2 major supermarkets seem to be thumbing their noses at the Federal Government

Yours sincerely
M. Coffey
