Submission by J O Clark, private citizen.

(1) To keep the ordinary letter rate at 45c may be non-profit but it is a splendid service to the public, of which Australia post can be proud.

For its other services it is well remunerated and is able to report consistently high profits.

I think matters should be left as they are, that is, maintain a non-profit service to the public with ordinary letters at 45c, and make profits on other services.

(2) In Canberra, we need an overnight mail service from Sydney at least - and ideally from the other State capitals as well.

Sydney newspapers are delivered, with out fail, to Canberra households before dawn, seven days a week.
